Dear Mr. Evers:

This letter is in response to your U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request number (GSA-2019-001195), submitted on June 10, 2019, in which you requested the following:

- “1. Any memoranda, protocols or other directives from the White House regarding the administration’s policy, practice, or approach to responding to requests for documents, testimony, or information from congressional committees, including any policies, practices or approaches for responding to congressional subpoenas.
2. Any memoranda, protocols or other directives from your agency’s leadership regarding the administration’s policy, practice, or approach to responding to requests for documents, testimony, or information from congressional committees, including any policies, practices or approaches for responding to congressional subpoenas.

Please provide all responsive records from September 1, 2018, through the date of the search.”

Please be advised that after searching our records, GSA does not have records responsive to your request.

Since our search returned no responsive documents to your request, this does not constitute a denial of records. However, you have the right to appeal the adequacy of the search and you may submit an appeal online at the following link (<https://foiaonline.regulations.gov/foia/action/public/home>) or in writing to the following address:

U.S. General Services Administration
FOIA Requester Service Center (H3A)

Your appeal must be postmarked or electronically transmitted within 120 days of the date of the response to your request. In addition, your appeal must contain a brief statement of the reasons for your appeal. Please enclose a copy of your initial request and this denial. Both the appeal letter and envelope or online appeal submission should be prominently marked, "Freedom of Information Act Appeal."
